PRESBYTERIANISM.

EIGHTH DAY MEMPHIS, Tean., Nov. 28, 1866 .- Th Assembly met at 9 a. M. After numerous reports, the Rev. S. A. King, of Texas, offered a paper which proposed a place for a general "Commissioner's fund" to be raised by a tax on the churches according to their membership. Thus the weaker and re-moter presbyteries would be aided in defraying the Commissioner's expenses.

Dr. Rice, from the standing Committee on Domestic Missions, reported on Dr.

Wilson's memorial-In devising a plan and organizing an agency for carrying on the work of domestie missions, it is necessary to keep constantly in view two essential principles: First, That the Church of Christ is one vaded and actuated by a common, divine, spiritual life.

Second. That it is a free spiritual com-

The liberty of the Church is protected by a written constitution, founded on the word of God, and is also guarded by the wise arrangement of its several courts, in accordance with the principles taught in the Holy

To the General Assembly it specially be-longs to manifest and exemplify the unity of the Church.

It is the province of the presbytery to conserve the freedom of the Christian commonwealth, by occupying the position and performing the functions of the chief executive agent in conducting the whole works of the Church.

Under our constitution, the presbyteries have original authority and jurisdiction, in the Lord, over all the ministers, churches and missionary fields within their respective bounds, independently of ail control. except such as may be exercised in a regular and orderly manner, by the Synods and readers : the General Assembly over such subjects as may be brought before them, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the Church.

Defining the authority and duty of the presbyteries fully, it was Resolved, That in the place of the present Executive Committee of Domestic Missions, the General Assembly do appaint a committee to be called "The Executive Committee of Sustentation." It shall consist of a secretary, who shall be elected annually by the General Assembly, and shall be styled "The Assembly's Secretary of Sustentation," and who shall be the organ of communication between the Assembly and the committee, and also between the committee and all portions of the work entrusted to its care; treasurer, and nine other members, three of whom shall be elders, deacons, or private members of the church, all to be appointed annually by the General Assembly, and directly amenable to it for the efficient and faithful discharge of their duties.

A series of resolutions were offered by Rev. A A. Morse, as a substitute for the above report of Dr. Rice. 1st. Resolved, That this General Assembly will have but one committee for Missionary purposes, which shall be styled the Missionary Committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States 2d. Resolved, This committee shall consist of a secretary, treasurer, and nine other members, and shall, for the present, be located in the city of Columbia, South Carolina.

3d. Resolved, That this committee shall have in charge all missions without the territorial limits of our church, whether within the limits of the United States or in foreign lands.

4th. Resolved, That said committee may establish and conduct missions within the territorial limits of any presbytery, when, and only when, it is invited so to do by the 5th, Resolved, It will be the further duty of the committee to receive and disburse, any funds that may be offered it for erecting or reparing church buildings.

6th. Resolved, That it is the duty of every presbytery and every congregation to contribute to the funds of this committee. They ought not to limit their contributions to their own wants, but should remember and obey the great command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every nation." This General Assembly therefore enjoins it upon all the congregations under its care to furnish a portion of its collections to the treasury of this committee.

An animated discussion on this whole subject continued until the order of the day arrived, when the Rev. Wm. S. Plummer, D. D., was elected to the Chair of Didactic, and Polemic Theology in the Columbia Theological Seminary. The other election was indefinitely postponed. In the afternoon session the first order of the day was, the report of the Standing Committee on Publi-

The Rev. Dr. Atkinson presented the report, which is as follows: The committee to whom was referred the annual report on publications, beg leave to recommend to the Assembly the adoption of the following paper:

- Resolved, That this Assemby has heard with great interest the report of the Executive Committee on Publication, and direct it to be printed with the minutes of this body.

Resolved, That the Assembly recognizes, with sincere thanks to the great Head of the Church, the remarkable success youchsafed this committee; that we rejoice in the prospect of its increased efficiency, and enjoin it upon pastors, churches and presbyteries to give their carnest aid to the promotion of its objects.

Resolved, That we observe with pleasure the cheapness and beauty of the publications of the committee, as well as the skill maniifested in the selection of works on its catalogue; that we recommend the increase of its publications as rapidly as practicable, and would enjoin the publication, with funds given especially for that purpose, of works designed for the use of freedmen. Resolved, That we recommend the committee to appoint agents for the sale of books, the advice and concurrence of presbyteries within whose bounds they are to labor having been first obtained. We likewise recommend that whenever practicable presbyteries shall make arrangements with booksellers to keep for sale a supply of the books of the committee, and that each presbytery appoint one of its own members to act as a corresponding member of the committee, and take especial oversight of its operations within the bounds of his

expense to the committee.
Resolved, That the insertion of any book on the catalogue shall be regarded as sufficient evidence of its approval by the committee.

Resolved, That we fully approve of the assignment of the duties of publishing agent to the secretary of publications. Resolved, That vacancies accraing in the committee shall be filled by itself till the meeting of the Assembly next follow-ing; that ordinarily five members shall constitute a quorum of the committee, but when objection is made to a work, the con-curence of seven members shall be requisite to its publication. Resolved, That the Assembly returns its hearty acknowledgements to the British and Foreign Bible Society for its generous relinquishment of the debt of twenty-five hundred dollars in gold due to it by their body, having one glorious Head, and percommittee, and also to donors of smaller sums both in this country and Europe. Resolved, That we express our gratifies monwealth, calling no man master on the tion at the satisfactory adjustment of the earth; but whose only Lord and Master is claim of the Presbyterian Board of Publication on this commmittee, and our commendation of the course of the Secretary of that Board. After reading the report, the Assembly was addressed by Rev. Dr. Brown, of Richmond: Rev. Dr. Hoyte, of Nashville, and Rev. Dr. Stuart Robinson, of Louisville, when it was adopted. The time of the next meeting was reconsidered, and the PRESBUTEROS.

REV. R. F. BUNTING.

The Memphis Bulletin has entertained its readers with pen and ink sketches of the eminent Presbyterian divines attending the recent Presbyterian General Assembly in that city. The following appropriate reference to a popular minister of this city will be read with pleasure by many of our

Here is a character for you, We knew Market sea character for you. We knew him well when vigor and intellect were invaluable. Mr. Bunting was then a Christisn, humble and devout, and, as well, a hero on the battle-field. He crossed the Mississippi with Terry's Texan Rangers. Forrest's men everywhere remember these dashing, gallant, terrible fellows. In a fight Mr. Banting was a fearless soldier; when the battle was done, he was kinder and gentler than a woman. With tender touch he closed the eyes of the fallen, whether friend or foe, and administered consolation to the dying. He never grew weary of doing good. Until the clanger of arms announced the coming strife, Mr. Bunting's place was beside the sick and suffering. The excitement of a bloody field furnished irresistible attractions. He had an irrepressible streak of human nature that made him strip off ghostly restraints whenever the bugle sounded a charge. It was sought to give him an officers' place, even that of a Reigndier Geneval had in the proper and gentler than a woman. With tender touch he closed the eyes of the fallen, whether friend or foe, and administered consolation to the dying. He never grew weary of doing good. Until the clanger of arms announced the coming strife, Mr. Bunting's place was beside the sick and suffering. The excitement of a bloody field furnished irresistible attractions. He had an irrepressible streak of human nature that made him strip off ghostly restraints whenever the bugle sounded a charge. Mr. Bunting was then a Christian, humble and devout, and, as well, a hero on the battle-field. He crossed the Mississippi with Terry's Texan Rangers. was sought to give him an officers' place, even that of a Brigadier General, but this was not a condition precedent to his admission into the front rank when an attack was ordered. The stars and wreath were, therefore, declined. He participated in many a conflict, but ever came out as he entered, a devout christian and sympathizing generous soldier. Mr. Bunting was educated at Princeton. New Jersey, where he was graduated in 1852. He went at once to Texas, as a Domestic Missionary, under the auspices of the Board at Philadelphia. He found a home at Lagrange on the Colorado. There was a wide field of usefulness before him. His moral vineyard was three hundred miles in circumference, and there was not a church that bloomed and shed its fragrance within all these wide domains. He planted churches everywhere, and they grew apace, At the expiration of three years, he took charge of the church at San Antonio. Six years were spent in that famed old Spanish American city. To his exertions and tireless zeal, San Antonio owes the erection of a tasteful and costly temple. In perfecting the organization of his church, and extending its influence, Mr. Bunting was engaged when these States became involved, like the fabled deity of old, in the delecta ble business of destroying their own chil-

Fired by passions, common to all men, devoted to his people and State, sympathizing keenly with those about him, resolved to pursue his calling where most good might be effected, Mr. Bunting left the pulpit to become a warrior as well as preacher. In both capacities he has given hard blows. The devil has felt him in the one case, and we suspect that he felt a spice of the devil in the other. In the summer of 1865 Mr. Bunting was induced to fill, for a time, the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church at Nashville. The congre gation deemed it wise to retain him. The prosperity of this body of christians has been unprecedented. The First Presbyterian is perhaps the most flourishing of churches in Nashville. There the General Assembly holds its next session. Mr. Bunting is about thirty-five years of age. His health is vigorous, his elasticity of mind and body exhaustless. He thinks accurately, but is impelled to declamation by an internal force that he cannot repress. His style of oratory is eminently popular. There is a fervid fancy and profound earnestness which makes him a most popular pulpit declaimer. He is liberal in his views and devoid of prejudices. Before he grows old his name will be honored in the Church as it was in the Army.

A MAN being asked, as he lay sunning himself on the grass, what was the height of his ambition, replied, "To marry a rich widow with a bad cough."
